

Angie Fenton Bio

Angie Fenton is the entertainment correspondent for WHAS11's "Great Day Live!" a weekday television morning show on Louisville's ABC affiliate. Additionally, Angie is an entertainment correspondent for the Saturday Morning Show on 84WHAS (840 AM) and has served as an on-camera host and emcee for Churchill Downs, the Kentucky Derby and Kentucky Oaks; Breeders' Cup; and Circuit of the Americas during the Formula One U.S. Grand Prix in November 2012. Angie has emceed numerous events for a variety of organizations, including the University of Louisville, Kentucky Stroke Association, Norton Hospital, Families for Effective Autism Treatment and WHAS11. She is a much-sought after speaker and has delivered keynote addresses and presentations to and for Assumption High School, Greater Louisville Inc., The Arrow Fund, Trinity High School, St. Xavier High School, numerous rotary clubs and several local colleges. Angie also serves as a freelance writer, voiceover professional and on-camera commercial talent. She has a bachelor's and master's in English from Central Michigan University and began her career as an adjunct professor at her alma mater. She is the youngest of five — four of whom were adopted, including Angie, and none of whom are biologically related. Angie is also a Michigan native who moved to Kentucky in June 2002 and is owned by three dogs — Herbie, Yoda and Zeke, a giant of a dog who uses a wheelchair.