Dwight Turner is an American actor, singer, and voice actor showing versatility with both comedy and drama. He has performed in award-winning movies, television shows, and commercials.

Dwight Co-Starred as Doctor Mabery on Chicago Fire, and Co-Starred as Alex on Undercovers for NBC. He Guest Starred as Detective Michael Zack on Murder Comes to Town, Guest Starred as Detective Doug Niemeier on Evil Talks: Chilling Confessions, and Co-Starred as the Bridgewater Police Chief on Betrayed for Investigation Discovery. Dwight Guest Starred as Lenny on 1000 Ways to Die for Spike TV, and Guest Starred as Sergeant Steven Showers on Fatal Attraction for TV One. He played Series Regular Nathan on Bear Tours, played the Recurring role of James Norton on The Pact, and played the Supporting role of Dr. Rubenstein in the TV movie Rx.

Dwight played a Lead role as Alexander Sly in the feature film Gradation, and played a Supporting role as Theophelies in the feature film The Deported acting opposite Nicholas Turturro and Talia Shire. He played a Lead role as Brent Stealmoney in the movie Out-Sorcery which premiered at Comic-Con and garnered a Best Humor Film nomination. Dwight played a Lead role as Jason Topper in the movie The Gestapo vs. Granny which was a finalist for HBO's Project Greenlight. He played the Lead role of Dale in the movie Step Motion Step, the Lead role of Stuart Spencer in the movie The Spirit of 76, the Lead role of Ray in the movie Semblance, the Lead role of Christopher Lambert in the movie Signing Off, and the Lead role of Ray Foley in the movie The Wallet.

Dwight voiced a Lead role as Green Lantern in DC Comics Super Heroes for Six Flags, and voiced a Lead role as the Doctor for WebMD. He performed with the LA Opera and the American Ballet Theatre at the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion, and played a Lead role as Jorden Fletcher in the musical A Day at the White House. The cast recording is available on music streaming services.

More info on these and additional projects at www.dwightturner.com and IMDb.