Special Skills

I reported for several news outlets while in college and after graduating with a Bachelor's in Journalism. In this field, I have done several live broadcasts, interviews, pre-recorded packages, and more. This has enabled me to become a quick study and excellent storyteller. I am also able to evoke the appropriate emotions for a variety of stories. My passion for journalism drew me closer to my passion for acting. The art of embodying a character in order to tell a story is near and dear to my heart.

I enjoy modeling as well. In high school, I became the president of our modeling troupe. We had a yearly showcase in which we worked with local designers and modeled their clothing. We also held workshops and photo shoots to build our portfolios. Similarly, in college I also became a member of our modeling troupe in which we incorporated dance into our performances.
