Special Skills

Fluent in Nepali, Hindi, Urdu, and English, with the ability to speak and understand multiple dialects. I am a beginner in Spanish and Arabic and have some experience with Latin. My public speaking experience includes a college course and leading international nonprofit events, where I've worked extensively with underserved communities. Musically, I've played the viola and enjoy singing casually—karaoke is one of my favorite pastimes!

Athletically, I'm flexible and adventurous: I can horseback ride, cycle, box, practice yoga, pole fitness, perform the splits, and more. I also help choreograph and perform dances with the youth groups I mentor.

I have a passion for writing, having won high school awards for it, and I thrive in storytelling, advocacy, and creating meaningful connections. My background of working with diverse communities, mentoring, and contributing to both international and local nonprofit initiatives informs my creativity and adaptability in every project I take on.

Fun fact: I'm pivoting from a career in medicine, bringing with me a wealth of knowledge, empathy, and a strong work ethic that fuels my passion for the entertainment industry!
